Volume 8 1988

Legal Studies

The Journal of the Society of Public Teachers of Law

Editor: Professor J. A. Andrews,
The University College of Wales, Aberystwyth

Reviews Editor: Richard Kidner
The University College of Wales, Aberystwyth

Butterworths

©
The Society of Public Teachers of Law 1988
ISSN 0 261–3875

Contents

Articles in order of publication

Comparative law and the reform of civil procedure, by J. A. Jolowicz 1
Does a third party beneficiary have a right in English law?, by N. H. Andrews 14
Some favourite fallacies about similar facts, by T. R. S. Allan 35
Incorporation of contract terms by a 'consistent course of dealing', by Elizabeth Macdonald 48
Murder under duress and judicial decision-making in the House of Lords, by Lynden Walters 61
The unresolved problem of recklessness, by Glanville Williams 74
Testamentary promises, by Martin Davey 92
Contract, Tort and Restitution; or, On cutting the legal system down to size, by Steve Hedley 137
Equity and volunteers, by M. R. T. Macnair 172
Judicial review where the Attorney General refuses to act: time for a change, by Barry Hough 189
Judicial review and immigration policy: emerging trends, by G. L. Peiris 201
Sir Henry Maine: 1822–1888, by Raymond Cocks 247
Keeping promises: the moral and legal obligation, by Samuel Stoljar 258
Governmental liability in tort and the public and private law division, by Geoffrey Samuel 277
Law, democracy and the individual, by Ian Duncanson 303
Controversy in the criminal law, by William Lucy 317

Contributors of articles

Allan, T. R. S.: Some favourite fallacies about similar facts 35
Andrews, N. H.: Does a third party beneficiary have a right in English law? 14
Cocks, Raymond: Sir Henry Maine: 1822–1888 247
Davey, Martin: Testamentary promises 92
Duncanson, Ian: Law, democracy and the individual 303
Hedley, Steve: Contract, Tort and Restitution; or, On cutting the legal system down to size 137
Hough, Barry: Judicial review where the Attorney General refuses to act: time for a change 189
Jolowicz, J. A.: Comparative law and the reform of civil procedure 1
Lucy, William: Controversy in the criminal law 317
Macdonald, Elizabeth: Incorporation of contract terms by a 'consistent course of dealing' 48
Macnair, M. R. T.: Equity and volunteers 172
Peiris, G. L.: Judicial review and immigration policy: emerging trends 201
Samuel, Geoffrey: Governmental liability in tort and the public and private law division 277
Stoljar, Samuel: Keeping promises: the moral and legal obligation 258
Walters, Lynden: Murder under duress and judicial decision-making in the House of Lords 61
Williams, Glanville: The unresolved problem of recklessness 74

Books reviewed

Abel, Richard: The Legal Profession in England and Wales 343
Atiyah, P. S. and Summers, R. S.: Form and Substances in Anglo-American Law 240
Beyleveld, Deryck and Brownsword, Roger: Law as a Moral Judgment 234
de Lupis, Ingrid Detter: The Law of War 340
Elias, Patrick and Ewing, Keith: Judicial and Legislative Control of Trade Unions: Trade Union Democracy, Members' Rights and the Law 120
Ganz, Gabriele: Quasi-legislation: Recent Developments in Secondary Legislation 229
Goodrich, Peter: Legal Discourse. Studies in Linguistics, Rhetoric and Legal Analysis 125
Goodrich, Peter: Reading the Law. A Critical Introduction to Legal Method and Techniques 125
Gray, Christine: Judicial Remedies in International Law 337
Hutter, Bridget: The Reasonable Arm of the Law? The Law Enforcement Procedures of Environmental Health Officers 333
Jacob, Sir Jack I. H.: The Fabric of English Civil Justice 111
Postema, Gerald J.: Bentham and the Common Law Tradition 238

Books received 132, 245, 346